TABLE OF CONTENTS

Altech's line of industrial plugs and sockets combine the elements of good design, high quality, safety, ease of installation and competitive cost. The pin and sleeve devices are manufactured to EN 60309 Part 1 and 2: IEC 60309. Their rugged construction in polyamide 6 material provides good anti-tracking properties and high resistance to aggressive industrial use.

In accordance with the Standard's requirements, these devices are color coded to provide positive voltage and frequency matching and external key-ways ensure correct alignment of contact pins. The position of the ground pin relative to the socket's key-way are designated as a clock hour position.

The ground terminal also has a larger diameter than the contacts, making it impossible to install it in an IEC 60309 device with a different voltage rating.

The shrouded housing made of high impact nylon material protects the contacts from physical abuse and safeguards against touching live parts when partially engaged.

All terminals are clearly marked with both IEC 60309 and North American Standards.

Features include:

- High impact and abrasion resistance
- Resistant to oil, petrol, most acids and alkalines
- Operating Temperature range
-13°F to 176°F (-25°C to 80°C)
- Excellent anti-tracking
- Insulated cable clamp device
- Maximum wiring space
- Terminals clearly marked
- All screws are accessible from one side
